

Daniel Mueller

Partner, Head of Latin America (Santiago), Alpine Capital

Daniel co-founded the Latin American business of Alpine Capital Advisors opening the Santiago, Chile office in 2015. Alpine is a placement agent and advisory firm dedicated to helping global alternative asset managers raise capital from institutional and private investors throughout the Americas, founded in New York in 2014. Prior to Alpine, Daniel worked for Moneda Asset Management, the largest independent Latin American investment manager where he led Moneda's fundraising efforts in Latin America successfully opening several key markets for the firm.

Daniel graduated from Indiana University Kelley School of Business with a degree in Business Administration and is a CAIA charterholder.